

Tis a privilege: Young area talent shines

Editorial Board 6:28 p.m. CST February 9, 2015

Buy Photo

(Photo: News-Leader)

Good news is not hard to find in the Ozarks, as we illustrate regularly with an editorial feature we call: 'Tis a privilege.

'Tis a privilege to enjoy the talents of so many area young people who perform onstage at various local theaters — including Juanita K. Hammons Hall for the Performing Arts. That's where sixth-graders Andrew Wilson (Willard Intermediate) and Ford Mirowski (Pipkin Middle School) were cast locally to share the role of Tom of Warwick when the national Broadway tour of Lerner & Loewe's "Camelot" played in Springfield over the weekend. Missed them in "Camelot?" Both boys participate regularly with Springfield Little Theatre.